

Money Autobiography

Write a “Money Autobiography,” which includes your earliest memories of your parents’ relationship to money. Write it as you experienced it then and what it is now, as well as your own reactions and relationship to their attitudes. Also include any formal or informal teachings from your parents or ‘older others’ about money that you remember or suspect from your early childhood. Include any thoughts on how you think about and handle money now.